

Country Chic Weddings in the Lakes

At Broadoaks Country House

Rustic, vintage and full of sunshine: A bridal dream in the heart of the Lake District. On 6th June, Sarah and Jack tied the knot at Broadoaks Country House in Windermere, and this is their story in all its beautiful, sunny glory.

A Touch Of Class Was A Must...

The couple knew they wanted a rustic country theme with an English vintage flare for their big day, and for Sarah, the ethereal exquisiteness of dusty pinks and gold was paramount to show her elegant femininity in all its beauty. For Sarah, this could only be achieved by realising her dream of an outdoor ceremony.

A Dream Come True In The Beauty Of Broadoaks

Regular visitors & all-time lovers of the Lake District's inherently rustic charm and breath-taking scenery, their hearts were well and truly set on having their special day here. After searching many venues, they found Broadoaks offered everything they wanted, especially the outdoor ceremony space, the close proximity to Lake Windermere, and the opportunity to exclusively use the whole house and its stunning landscaped gardens. They couldn't believe their luck and they knew instantly that life-long memories would be made here.

The Big Day Finally Arrived

It was, quite simply, the most glorious day; the sun was beaming and the exquisite beauty of nature framed Sarah and Jack's picturesque wedding venue perfectly.

Sarah was overjoyed: Her dream of an outdoor ceremony had become a reality.

Sarah and her bridesmaids enjoyed getting ready in 'The Retreat', nestled away in the woodlands of the grounds away from the main house, where tears and champagne flowed in a whimsical stream of excitement and emotions.

The children were free to play and delight in the stunning gardens under the heat of the Lake District sun as guests arrived with open jaws and a sense of heart-warming anticipation before taking their seats on the perfectly manicured, perfectly decorated lawn.

Here Comes The Bride

Jack, looking handsome and confident, waited patiently for his bride. Then, upon hearing the opening bars of 'Wings' by Birdy, he turned around to see the most magnificent image of his soulmate, his Sarah, his bride.

Holding a fine bouquet of seasonal flowers, Sarah joined Jack at the arbor and it was there where they said their vows.

A Sunshine Reception

A natural, rustic and floral feast display awaited the guests as they walked into the reception room, which was adorned in dusty pink and gold details. The three-course gourmet meal was the crème de la crème of the afternoon, after which guests lounged blissfully in the sunshine whilst taking in the splendour of Lake Windermere's glistening waters.

And so it was, Sarah and Jack had what they could only describe as "the fairytale wedding" in the heart of the Lake District. ✨
